Global Debt 21st Century Debates

Socialism of the 21st century (Spanish: socialismo del siglo XXI) is an interpretation of socialist principles first advocated by German sociologist and political analyst Heinz Dieterich and taken up by a number of Latin American leaders. Dieterich argued in 1996 that both free market industrial capitalism and 20th-century socialism have failed to solve urgent problems of humanity like poverty ...

Global governance or world governance is a movement towards political cooperation among transnational actors, aimed at negotiating responses to problems that affect more than one state or region. Institutions of global governance—the United Nations, the International Criminal Court, the World Bank, etc.—tend to have limited or demarcated power to enforce compliance.

This part of the globalissues.org web site looks at the issue of trade and poverty and the relationship between them. International trade has been accompanied by some unfair practices by many nations, undermining human rights. Most wars are fought over access to resources. Some people call the current global trading model modern colonialism.

In 2009, the OCED and many others feared official aid would decline due to the global financial crisis. They urged donor nations to make aid countercyclical; not to reduce it when it is needed most — by those who did not cause the crisis.. And indeed, for 2009, aid did increase as official stats from the OECD shows. It rose 0.7% from just under $123 bn in 2008 to just over $123 bn in 2009 (at ...

The expansion of our wealth is only possible so long as the oil supply continues to expand, says oil expert Dr. Colin Campbell. The financial and investment community is beginning to accept the reality of Peak Oil, which ends the First Half of the Age of Oil, during which banks created capital by lending more than they had on deposit, being confident that tomorrow's expansion, fueled by cheap ...

William Lane Craig is a prolific Christian philosopher, apologist, author, and public debater. He is the best debater - on any topic - that I've ever heard. As far as I can tell, he has won nearly all his debates with atheists. When debating him, atheists have consistently failed to put forward solid arguments, and consistently failed to point out the flaws in Craig's arguments.
